Mr. Herbert F. Sherwood, connected with the editorial staff of the New York Tribune will be the speaker to-morrow Thursday evening in the Public Library course, taking for his subject, "The European Home of the New Immigration."

More than seven million immigrants have landed in this country in the course of the last ten years, a part of the greatest human migration recorded in history and there are many questions which arise in the minds of American citizens when they contemplate this great stream.

For several years Mr. Sherwood has been studying the subject as a member of the Tribune staff, and more recently as a member of the party which visited Europe in the company of the United States Immigration Commis-

The lecture to-morrow evening will well illustrated and descriptive of the customs and environment of the peoples of Italy, Austria-Hungary and Poland, who comprise two-thirds of the present American immigration. Doors will be opened at 7 o'clock and lecture begin at eight.

SENATOR MANWARING NAMED AS CHAIRMAN

Of Special Committee by State Business Men's Association.

Meriden, Jan. 20 .- The directors of the State Business Men's Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon. The special object was to consider legislative matters, and the legislative committee was directed to appear before the judiciary committee of the Legislature at the proper time and support the public utilities bill.

The directors also considered the question of organizing a state collecting agency. At the last annual meeting a committee made a report recom-mending that $200 be appropriated for the purpose and that some one be hired to go around to visit the various local associations to interest them in the project. This report was turned down at the time, but the whole matter was again threshed out yesterday. It was finally decided to refer the matter to a committee of seven, of which Senator M. W. Manwaring of Bridgeport was named chairman, for consid-

Morton W. Smith, fleet captain of the Larchmont Yacht Club and one of the party on the Atlantic when she won the historic race across the Atlantic ocean, made an interesting and amusing address. Wilson Marshall asserted that Bridgeport was important enough to have a harbor with 25 feet of water. He called upon Harbor Master Charles H. Morris to get after the Congressmen from this state and obtain the reappropriation. Commodore nuired Bishop had something to say in the same line. Capt. Morris had other suggestions to offer among them a breakwater from Fayerweather's Isand toward the spar buoy. Other speakers were Dr. George L. Porter and Alderman Robert Gould.
